Genocide convention could reach Senate after 35-year wait

BY JACK ANDERSON
AND JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — After 35 years of controversy, the Genocide Convention may finally make it out of committee and onto the Senate floor for full-scale debate. And with President Reagan's endorsement, announced last November, the international agreement adopted by the United Nations unanimously in 1948 stands the best chance it has ever had of Senate ratification.

The Genocide Treaty, as it is known, arose from the ashes of Nazi Germany's crematoriums in World War II, when millions of Jews and others were killed. The treaty makes genocide an international crime subject to the jurisdiction of the World Court.

In fact, it is precisely this jurisdiction that has caused and sustained conservative opposition to ratification of the Genocide Treaty. Critics contend the U.S. ratification would violate the Constitution by, among other things, forcing the United States to go to war against a nation that is found guilty of genocide by the International Court of Justice.

Ratification would also, the critics suggest, make American soldiers and police subject to the authority of the World Court simply on the basis of a complaint that they had been racially motivated in the exercise of their duties.

The single most determined Senate advocate of the Genocide Treaty is Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who has made an appeal for its ratification every day on the Senate floor since 1967.

"It is a human rights treaty," Proxmire insists. "It is an international-criminal treaty... designed to ensure that all nations, consistent with their own constitutions, will do everything possible to prevent and punish criminals who attempt to commit the most heinous crime — the elimination of an entire national, ethnic or racial group."

Proxmire has the support of Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., the new chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, several other members and such diverse groups as the Defense Department, the AFL-CIO, B'nai B'rith, the NAACP and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Proponents argue that ratification would strengthen ties with the U.S. allies, who have ratified the treaty, and keep the Soviets — who have also ratified it — from using the U.S. failure to ratify as propaganda.

The leading opponent, Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., has proposed eight specific reservations to the treaty that would make it acceptable to conservatives.

"Our main contention is that the treaty as it stands gives complete jurisdiction to the World Court over the sovereignty of the United States," Helms' aide Dr. James Lucifer told our reporter Mark Woolley.

Every president since Harry Truman has endorsed the treaty, with the exception of Dwight Eisenhower, who held off rather than provide fuel for a suggested constitutional amendment that would have limited a president's treaty-making authority. Now it seems likely that the Foreign Relations Committee will vote the long-pending ratification measure out to the Senate floor, where all four of the amendments is certain.

Even opponents predict that the treaty stands a good chance of ratification — with some modifications.

FERRO WHO?: Rep. Clarence Miller, R-Ohio, recently tried a test election method to plaque his colleagues' interest in the subject dear to his constituents' hearts but probably of faint interest elsewhere.

Miller was hoping to win support for federal aid to the long-suffering ferroalloy industry. His solution to this potential eye-gazer was to write a "Dear Colleague" letter in the form of a quiz.

"What is a ferroalloy?" he asked, and supplied five possible answers:

— "Something your mother told you never to mention in public."

— "The latest sportscar model to come out of Detroit."

— "A new strip of Dallas' series."

— "A fear of the 'Colleague' letters."

— "The name of the above."

The last option, of course, is the correct answer. Ferroalloys are the various combinations of iron and other metals that can be used to make steel.

Washington for deranged in our society

Art
Buchwald

Does the fact that Washington has the most psychotherapists mean that there are more mentally deranged people here than anywhere else? The answer is probably yes.

Dr. Arnold Frisher, noted psychiatrist who has been practicing in D.C. for 40 years, and only takes the toughest cases, maintains that something happens to people after they stay in Washington awhile.

He said, "To put it in professional terms, 50 percent are nuttier than fruitcakes."

"How do you account for it?"

"Pressure, power and politics. Although most of them are normal people when they come here, it doesn't take long for them to lose all sense of reality. Let me give you an illustration. I have a patient who works for the Office of Management and Budget. He makes $26,000 a year. Every morning he comes to see me and says he has just chopped another billion dollars out of a government program. Then he bites his fingernails."

"Would that make him crazy?"

"No. But on each visit he claims he's brought the money with him and demands me to put it in my safe so Congress can't get their mitts on it."

"It sounds like he's suffering from exhaustion."

"That or guilt," Dr. Frisher said. "Six months ago he took a wheelchair away from his 80-year-old mother because he said she wasn't entitled to it on Medicare."

"Why would he feel guilty about that?" I asked.

"She calls him every morning and tells him not to worry about her because his father has offered to carry her to the supermarket on his back."

"What other troubled patients do you see?"

"I have a senator who took $5 million from political action committees in the last election, but still believes he's his own man. There were a secret army of education who have a phobia about college kids, a U.S. Justice Department attorney for civil rights who loathes civil rights, a newspaper reporter who behaves like an animal, a lobbyist who claims to have 20 congressmen sewn up in his pocket, and a CIA official who has to continually wash his hands every time he testifies about Nicaragua."

"Is that it?"

"No, I have this high official in the White House who maintains he has no desire to spend a trillion dollars on new weapons to keep the peace."

"That wouldn't make him gonzo. The White House did win 49 states."

"My patient doesn't claim he has a mandate from the people — he says he has one from God."

"Haven't you ever never had one who told me God wanted him to spend a trillion dollars. That's manic."

"At the same time, the way things seem to be going, a trillion dollars isn't too much to invest for security on earth."

"My patient doesn't want to spend it on earth. He wants to spend it in the sky."

"How is he going to do that?"

"He doesn't know. That is why he says he comes to me. He wants me to find the answer before people say he's flipped out."

"It sounds like a hopeless case. Why don't you fire him as a patient?"

"Because I think I have the solution. If I could hook up a network of lasers to 10 hydrogen bombs and explode them just as the Soviet Union exploded in the Soviet Union, I could create a nuclear winter which would negate a first-strike capability, and then the Russians would come to me and say, 'Ain't going to go to war no more, ain't going to go to war no more, ain't g-o-i-n-g to go to war no more, ain't g-o-o-r-r-e to go to war no more.'"

The very best is yet to come for all

When the University of Arizona was founded a hundred years ago in the "hostile" desert territory of Arizona — it took courage.

The average American could expect to live only 44 years. The timid were anxious about not enough water and too-expensive energy and our nation's Treasury was "dangerously depleted."

Two counties could scrape up only $25,000 — but two profane gamblers in Tucson gambled $100,000 across 10 acres of desert — and the university took root.

Looking back to the years between 1885 and now it is obvious that there was never an hour when we were not "teetering on the brink" — and yet — tomorrow always was better than today.

For just one thing, technology was compounded tenfold every 10 years!

On the doorstep of this young year in 1985, ARIZONA HIGHWAYS queried the scholars on campus at today's great cultural oasis, the University of Arizona, and asked them to anticipate our future.

The best is yet to be!

Scholars, speaking for their respective disciplines, anticipate within the next 30 years...

A safe cigarette.

A vaccine against 20 different cancers.

Development of plants and grains capable of thriving in inhospitable environments that will eliminate world hunger.

Paul
Harvey

Increasingly efficient desalinization of sea water.

Microelectronic chip transistors so small that you could hide a hundred of them under a single human red coruscate.

Computerized implants enabling the blind to see.

Digital radiology allowing a hospital in the Third World to get an instant diagnosis and prescription "from Mayo."

More "cottage industries" as new communications techniques enable entrepreneurs to work out of their homes.

The average American man will live 80 years, the average woman 90 and, with self-imposed discipline, 100.

John Dewey said it: "To the being who fully alive, the future is a promise, surrounding like a halo."

Thomas Wolfe said this:

"The true discovery of America is before us. The true fulfillment of our spirit, of our people, of our maturity and immortal land, is yet to come."

Happy New Years!

Talking to my dad on the plight of farmers...

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

It was while traveling through farmlands of Southern Illinois last month enroute to Hilton Head, S.C., that I struck up conversation with my father in an attempt to alleviate the boredom of travel.

"How's Uncle Elmer doing?" I asked about my father's brother, who is a farmer in central Missouri.

"He's doing just fine," was the response.

"Now I don't mean how's his health," I explained. "I mean, how's the farm?"

"Good as it's ever been," my father answered.

Father's reaction to my question took me by surprise. He was ruining a perfectly good opportunity for a lively discussion on how rotten things are for farmers, how Illinois and Missouri each want to spend $200 million a year in interest loans to aid the farmers and how President Reagan ought to get his mind off the missiles and onto the silos.

"Well," I tried again. "What about the farm crisis?"

"The crisis?" Uncle Elmer's got no crisis, my father answered. "He's still farming his 290 acres, renting another 130, and he's got the Glenn farm, but he uses it strictly for 350 acres worth of pasture. He did eat raising hogs, but he's got the cattle and his small grain crops."

"OK," I jumped in, "why did he quit raising the hogs? Not enough money?"

"None," my father shot back. "At his age, he thought they were too much work."

"Come on, Dad," I resumed, "I know he's got that brand new house and I'll bet he's got other debts beside."

"None," came the answer. "I just wish I had half the cash he's got in the bank." (This coming from a man who was traveling to a second home in Hilton Head.)

"But the newspapers, the television, are always talking on about how hard times are for the farmers. THE FARMERS, Dad. Doesn't that mean ALL the farmers?"

"Not all of them," he said softly. "Farmers like Elmer's neighbors, the Holmans, are in trouble. You see, they got sold on these government programs. They see a piece of equipment and think they gotta buy it. Then when they get it, it's big for their crops. They take care of their crops in a week and then have nothing to do. And, the government pushed them. 'Expand for the exports,' we'll give you the loans to do it' they say."

"But when the embargoes came up, the farmers were left holding the bag."

"Then the government came back and said, 'Keep your fields dry, and we'll pay you to do it.' Now Elmer's neighbors are paying for all that equipment and have no place to use it."

I didn't ask why Uncle Elmer didn't fall for it, considering his conservative background and general mistrust of salesmen and politicians. I also thought about the last time I saw Uncle Elmer, working on the carburetor of his tractor, two left-handed gloves on his hands.

"You know, I said, 'I think Uncle Elmer is a fool.'

"'Yeah,' my father answered.

"He can't always beat the insects, floods or summer scorches, but he sure has beat the system."

NO MORE BASEMENT. Family members provide the teamwork Friday as the basement of the home of Jerry White, 2632 Angels Drive, is filled in. More than 275 tons of sand, about five feet deep when finished, will permanently end the White family's battle with the high water table in the Dobrey Slough area, resulting in at least three feet of standing water in the basement. It is at least the fifth house on the drive to be filled in. White estimates the project is costing him about $3,000.

Future of Arlington Heights looks bright

The future of the Arlington Heights area can only be positive with Interstate 255 being constructed nearby, a new convention center at its back door in Collinsville and city water service anticipated shortly, Marlene Miller, president of the Arlington Civic Association, told the Press-Record in an interview last week.

She said the association is working hard to improve the Arlington area and is studying options, such as possible annexation of the area into Collinsville, Granite City or Pontoon Beach.

Last month, the group met with Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of annexing into Granite City. "We concluded it is not too practical at the present time," Miller said.

Tuesday, March 26, the group plans to meet with Collinsville Mayor Gene Bromboli to discuss the advantages of annexing with that city.

In early April, a meeting with Pontoon Beach officials is planned on the same subject.

Concerns being addressed by the improvement group includes a lack of sanitary sewers. Major development of the area is thwarted since any industry or residential development would have to rely on septic tanks, which endanger the quality of the water from the shallow wells the area uses for its drinking water.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has taken a particular interest in the area due to the long-term effects water can have.

Jerry Liley, president of the Arlington Heights Water District, has "really gotten things moving" on the public water issue, Miller said.

"We just want to let the public know about our proposed annexation of the people in Arlington to improve our community. Things are going well for Arlington and with I-255 and the convention center, there is a lot happening," Miller concluded.

firefighters to get the water to fight fires out of the lake. In the winter, when the lake is frozen, firefighting ability for Arlington Heights is limited by the amount of water the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department can haul.

Henry Liley, president of the Arlington Heights Water District, has "really gotten things moving" on the public water issue, Miller said.

"We just want to let the public know about our proposed annexation of the people in Arlington to improve our community. Things are going well for Arlington and with I-255 and the convention center, there is a lot happening," Miller concluded.

Stray dogs topic at meeting

Rosemarie Morlien of 2057 Thirtieth St., complained to Granite City aldermen Tuesday night about the services the dog catcher, who has not been present at residents' meetings, has provided.

According to Mrs. Morlien, the city humane department was called about a stray doberman dog that was near her home. She said the humane officer refused to come out and pick up the dog until she threatened to kill the animal.

She claims that she followed the humane truck one day and the workers did not pick up any dogs.

She also complained about youths gathering in the street and neighborhood who constantly break into businesses.

Jack Varadian, alderman of the Fifth Ward, said he and Alderman Lloyd Bailey met with residents of the Tri-City Park area recently and he said he thinks the residents have legitimate complaints. "We do have ordinances that aren't being enforced," he said. "It's the same people who abuse the ordinances and nothing is done to them."

Mayor Paul Fisk added that he thinks the city has had to tighten its belt to the point where some city services have had to suffer because the ordinances have not been enforced.

At least doesn't do any good if we don't have the people to enforce it," he said. "Schuler added that if the council members recommend an increase in the staff of the humane department, he will support it."

Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad said he thinks the problem with dogs is city-wide. "And this is the time of year when dogs are real playful," he said.

Sant Wold, alderman of the Second Ward, said he thinks the whole discussion is politically motivated.

"It's as plain as the nose on your face—this is pure political," he said.

"We've got two people covering the whole area and if we can't handle one, the problem will have to wait until another day. These people should go to the dog pound and see the job that these people are really doing."

Alderman Paul Fisk added that he has been told by City Inspector Emerald Dawes that more than 100 dogs had been destroyed last month alone by the humane department.

While social facilities — card playing, dances, fishing trips are great entertainment for our Senior Citizens, in addition I propose the establishment of an Office of Senior Citizens Affairs in the City Hall. The purpose of this office will be to coordinate a central clearing house or coordinating office to handle inquiries on all senior citizen assistance programs and activities. This would include assistance or referral on social security, medicare, health insurance, taxes, legal questions, housing, financial planning, local transportation, travel, and recreation. The Office would be administered by an advisory board and would be staffed by volunteers with knowledge and training in the various programs and activities. Space for the Office can be provided in the lower level of City Hall.

Gift helps Dream Factory buy computer for GC boy

By DONNA KIMBRO
staff writer

Maurice Solleberger, relatives and friends responded to the death of 9-year-old girl and the 63-year-old man by contributing $5,000 to the Dream Factory to provide a special "dream" to a seriously or critically ill child.

The first purchase, as a result of the donations, was an Apple II computer, the dream of a 17-year-old Granite City boy who suffers from cystic fibrosis and will graduate from high school this year. The young man plans to use the computer through Belleville Area College to further his education and hopefully find a trim for gainful employment.

"Every day we hear from more people throughout the country who are interested in the program and, just last week, we had a letter from the State DeMolay organization in Washington with a total of 1,600 chapters who wish to become members of the Dream Factory and aid all projects," the local chairman announced.

During the first 18 months of the Metro-East operation the Dream Factory provided special wishes to more than 100 children.

The young people do not always want a trip to a special place, but sometimes just request a television set, computer, visit with a well-known sports athlete or take a ride in an airplane.

"This project has just snowballed into such a huge operation, but it is very satisfying when you know the

Girl Scouts mark anniversary

With the month of March designated as Girl Scout month, several troops attended services at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Gratuitous at the 9 a.m. service were members of the church and included Jamie Duckworth of Brownie Troop 591, Stacy San Soucie, Brownie Troop 323, Andrea Knox, Junior Troop 759, Michelle Kasten, Brownie Troop 759, Jennifer Mathews, Brownie Troop 759, Troop 47, Pam Mathews, troop leader, and Diane Oliver, senior troop 822.

Members of Junior Troop 47 of Niedringhaus School served as servers at the 10:30 a.m. service. They were: Shelly Schub, 29 years in Girl Scouting; Karen Orr, 31 years, Mary Kostoff, 29 years, Brenda Richter, 28 years, Velma Ferrance, 23 years, Wilma McQuinney, 28 years and Judy Stille, 34 years.

Vases of flowers were placed on the altar in honor of Girl Scout Day.

GCC's enrollment growing

In a time when most Illinois community colleges are experiencing an enrollment decline, Granite City Center (GCC) of Belleville Area College (BAC) is experiencing an increase.

In fall 1984, GCC's enrollment increased by 10 percent. GCC experienced an even greater increase of 8.8 percent this spring.

DON KASSING, GCC's new president, said the center also has an increase in its share of BAC district enrollment. In fall 1984, GCC's enrollment equaled 16 percent of BAC's total enrollment. This spring, it's enrollment share increased to 18 percent.

Kassing said the figures are encouraging. GCC also offers courses good beginning next fall, earning four-year degrees. Approximately 40 percent of GCC's students say they plan to transfer to four-year institutions.

Fall and part-time faculty and staff members have been the key to the enrollment increases, Kassing said.

Scholarship applications taken

The Granite City Scholarship Foundation has delivered to the high school application forms to be used in applying for scholarships for the 1985-1986 school term. The scholarship grants are $1,000 each, the same as last year. The applications may be obtained from the guidance counselors office at the high school.

Officials note that 1985 marks the 20th anniversary of the Granite City Scholarship Foundation and this year the total amount of scholarships granted to graduates of Granite City High Schools since its organization in 1965 will pass the $250,000 mark — funds that are contributed by local businesses and organizations.

The applications must be completed by the students' parents and high school advisors. In order to meet the April 30 deadline, it is suggested that the applications be picked up early and that they be completed and returned early. The scholarship foundation projects approximately 20 and 28 grants will be awarded at the recognition assembly in early June.

Man is indicted in Pontoon home explosion

John Moore, 19, of 114 Holiday Mobile Home Park, has been indicted by a Madison County grand jury on a charge of arson. The indictment was handed down after an investigation into the Oct. 10 explosion and fire that destroyed Moore's mother's home at 4129 Kaseburg Lane. According to Pontoon Beach police, the grand jury indictment was handed down March 14, and bond for Moore has been set at $25,000.

Police reports indicate that the house owned by Darlene Moore, was vacant at the time of the fire. When firefighters arrived, the fire was pinned under burning debris from the house fire.

Moore suffered third degree burns over a third of his body and was taken to St. John Mercy Medical Center in St. Louis for treatment.

Police say they found several incendiary devices at the scene of the fire.

Two charged with theft

Two Granite City residents were charged with theft, battery and disorderly conduct following an incident at a service station on Ronne's Sonoco, 3940 Pontoon Road.

According to the Pontoon Beach police, Richard Detrich, 35, of 5409 Evergreen St., and Janet S. Green, 28, of 2848 Ralph St., were charged after they and another man, who was not charged, confronted Robert Gibbs at the service station at the service station at the time.

Police said Detrich and the unidentified man exited their car at the service station. Detrich began to pump gasoline while the other man and Gibbs waited. When Gibbs told the men that the restroom was incomplete, the two men became unruly and attacked Gibbs, punching him with their fists. Gibbs alleged that Detrich was his primary attacker.

Meanwhile, while the two men were confronting Gibbs, Green shouted obscenities and broke a bottle on the on the service station lot, the police said.

A passing motorist noticed the incident and reported Detrich's license plate number to police, who later that evening were able to trace Detrich and Green.

Detrich was charged with theft and battery. The theft charge resulted from the $5 of gasoline that was pumped into the car, but not paid for.

Green was charged with two counts of disorderly conduct, one for her actions at the service station and another for her alleged behavior when taken to the Pontoon Beach police station.

Green posted $52 cash bond while Detrich posted $102. Both were later released.

YMCA open house Sunday

The public is being invited to an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Monday at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Ellison Ave.

The intent of the event is to promote public awareness of the "new" YMCA, with its $100,000 worth of recent improvements, including its new Nautilus facility and its top-rate racquetball courts, swimming pool and other facilities. Tours will be conducted, free classes offered and there will be a drawing for free prizes.

Organized activities at the open house include free Fitness Fun (Aerobic dance) class at 2:30 p.m., gymnastics and karate demonstration at 3:30 p.m. and free Aerobics classes at 3 and 4 p.m. The gymnasium and swimming pool also will be open during the day.

To further encourage membership, a physical membership and a participating membership will be given away during the day. The drawings will be at 4:30 and winners must be present to claim their prizes.

Refreshments will be served.

Echols fights to hold revenue sharing

By VALERIE EVERDEN
Staff Writer

"I've already contacted U.S. Senator Alan Dixon several weeks ago and he has assured me that he will fight valently for the Federal Revenue Sharing program to continue," Mayor Tyrone Echols reported to the Venice City Council last week.

He was responding to a letter from Marion County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, who asked each city and township administration to contact congressional leaders, urging them to fight to keep several endangered programs in force.

"I believe we have got letters off to Senator [Paul] Simon, Congressman [Melvin] Price and another to Sen. Dixon re-emphasizing our concerns," the mayor said.

Uneasiness about the proposed cuts and elimination of programs which benefit urban areas and specifically Venice, has been voiced by the Venice mayor and council members on many occasions.

The concerns were revived at last week's meeting after Hagnauer's letter was read by the mayor.

The county board chairman stated, "These programs have been the backbone for our communities in providing decent housing, public services and community development. They have given us the tools to develop our communities when other sources of funds have become scarce."

"The cuts include the elimination of programs such as revenue sharing, urban development action grants, economic development administration and small business administration.

"Community Development Block Grants are proposed to be cut over 50 percent and small business assistance programs will receive no funding for the next two years," Hagnauer contended.

"It is important to reduce the federal deficit, but it is important to make sure it is done in a fair way. Help for local governments has been reduced by 80 percent since 1981. Cutting these programs will only increase the burden our communities already have upon them," he said.

He is also progressing to put a halt to the Reagan administration's plan. It is up to us at the local level, to encourage our congressional delegation from Illinois to fight to keep the programs alive," Hagnauer stressed.

On other issues, Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Haynes commented about the condition of the railroad crossing on Market Street, noting "a couple of people tell me that they've got their cars damaged."

City Attorney Lawrence Hartman commented, "The best thing those people can do is to start filing some claims against the railroad. It may force them a little quicker."

Concerns about the condition of the roadway at the crossing have increased in recent weeks.

The attorney reported also that a court judgment instigated by the city has been returned against owners of some demolition activity in the 1200 block of Douglas Avenue.

He advised that a lien can now be placed against the property and personal judgments can be sought against the individual owners.

Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine said salaried conditions at a residence in the 1000 block of Logan Avenue are also the subject of complaint.

Man charged with aggravated assault

Jerry McCabe, who was released from the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville on Feb. 21, has been charged with three counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault in connection with the alleged rape of a Pontoon Beach woman early Friday morning.

According to Pontoon Beach police Chief Carl Ballew, McCabe, 31, of 3809 Central Avenue, was arrested at about 2 a.m. by a Madison County sheriff's deputy at the Lewis and Clark State Park.

Ballew said that the deputy was on routine patrol through the park when he observed headlights moving toward him. The driver, which was stopped by McCabe, was identified by McCabe. After the deputy ordered McCabe out of the car, the deputy heard a woman scream for help. Police reports indicate that the woman was out of sight on the floorboards of the vehicle.

The woman informed the deputy that she had been raped. The first incident, police reports state, occurred in the woman's home when she awoke and saw her attacker standing by her bed. After the attack, police said, McCabe allegedly forced her to leave her home with him in his car.

McCabe now faces the three counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse (two counts from Pontoon Beach and one from the county), and Pontoon Beach charges of home invasion, armed robbery and aggravated kidnapping.

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has set bond for McCabe at $300,000.

McCabe was returned to the Madison County Jail later Friday, having been free since Feb. 21 after serving some time on a three-year sentence on an unlawful restraint conviction.

He pleaded guilty to unlawful restraint last Jan. 21. He was originally charged with rape on March 16, 1980, in Marion Pontoon Beach, but pleaded guilty after receiving a rape report on March 15 from a woman living in the Cottonwood Trailer Park.

In July 1980, McCabe pleaded guilty in Titusville, Fla., to one count of grand theft, and at that time faced up to five years in prison. The plea was part of a plea bargaining agreement in which charges of sexual battery, kidnapping, burglary and robbery were dismissed.

McCabe was convicted of rape in Marion County on Feb. 27, 1980, in the 27th rape of a 20-year-old woman in the parking lot of Granite City High School South, but he won a new trial on a technicality.

He was subsequently acquitted when the victim's ability to identify him as the attacker was questioned.

It's not as easy to pick a lawn care company as it was 28 years ago when we started our business. Two and three phone calls from lawn companies based in foreign countries or other states have clouded and confused the reasons for having a lawn service company. When you pay someone to treat your lawn you want:

- Experience in dealing with lawn problems.
- A local company that can give you fast service.
- A tried and proven treatment program
- Trained lawn technician to work on your lawn.

Green Lawns meets these requirements and goes even further . . .

All of our technicians are either in their own lawns branch offices or are working toward an office of their own. Our average employee has more than 8 YEARS experience.

State Briefs

PARM LOANS — State Treasurer James H. Donnelly, after weighing the overwhelming response from the farming and banking communities to his Agricultural Production Loan deposit program, is expanding it still further. Increases only letters will go out to the qualifying banks of additional funds available. Under the Treasurer's program, banks may charge farmers no more than 2.5 percent above the rate paid the state for deposits.

CHINA — Illinois became the first state to establish a permanent presence in the People's Republic of China last week when Governor Jim Edgar opened a permanent trade office in Shenyang, the capital of Liaoning Province, one of the country's most industrialized regions. The Governor also announced last week the Illinois companies had signed contracts or letters of intent, worth perhaps $1 billion, with Chinese businesses.

CHILDREN — A $2.1 million program to strengthen services for mentally disabled children and adolescents was announced last week by officials of the state departments of Children and Family Services and Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities. Some 27 agencies in 17 Illinois communities will receive $1.1 million in grants through June 30.

EDUCATION — While research shows that early childhood education programs can help children develop desirable educational and social goals, the number of Illinois children who could benefit from those programs far exceed those currently being served, a State Board of Education study shows. This is particularly true for children who are most at risk of school failure, children from low-income families, children with limited English-speaking ability, gifted children and children of teenage parents, according to the study.

STATE PAYROLL — Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported last week there were 114,411 employees on the state payroll at the end of January, an increase of 3,311 from the previous month, and 3,372 higher than the employment level for the same month one year ago.

OLDER WORKERS — Governor George Ryan has proclaimed this week as Employ the Older Worker Week in Illinois. "The state of Illinois joins the nation in recognizing this observance, which was initiated by the American Legion 26 years ago," said the Governor.

AG DIRECTOR — Illinois Director of Agriculture Larry Wierries was elected president-elect of the National Association of state departments of agriculture last week at the group's winter meeting in Washington, D.C.

TOURIST GRANTS — The Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Affairs recently awarded more than $74,000 in tourism grants to 17 organizations to help promote events and attractions across the state. They include: Bureau County Homestead Festival; Cawein Park; Elkhorn Prairie; Convention and Tourism Councils; North, Central, Western and Southern Illinois Tourism Councils; Chicago Horticultural Society; Chicago Theatre Group; Decatur Arts Foundation; Great American People Show; in New Salem; Illinois Hotel/Motel Association; Mitchell Foundation in Mount Vernon; Nauvoo and Princeton Chambers of Commerce and Springfield Zoological Society.

WILDFLOWERS — The Illinois Department of Conservation recently provided the Department of Transportation with 13,500 wildflowers to be planted along interstate interchanges and along right-of-way. The plants, which are of seven different species, were left over after the Department's needs for state parks and conservation areas were met.

LLW COMPACT — Terry R. Lash, director of the Illinois Department of Nuclear Safety, has urged Congress to promptly ratify interstate compacts to provide for disposal of low-level radioactive wastes. LLW Illinois has entered into a compact with Kentucky to provide for LLW disposal. Under the compact, Illinois will host a disposal facility for the two-state region. The compact must be ratified by Congress before becoming fully effective.

COAL PRODUCTION — Illinois mines produced 5,620,301 tons of coal during January, according to Brad Eviszker, director of the Department of Mines and Minerals. Perry County led in production with 1,247,554 tons.

Price for Warfield

Mac Warfield's campaign for mayor in Granite City picked up key endorsement Friday from U.S. Rep. Melvin Price.

"He is a prouder man in my life," Warfield said. "Congressman Price is an institution in this community and his support says more to Granite City voters than we could say in a hundred radio advertisements or radio commercials."

Warfield indicated Price's endorsement was evidence that Mayor Paul Schuler has failed to develop a good working relationship with federal and state elected officials. After 18 years as mayor, Paul Schuler appears to have been unable to earn the confidence and respect of this district's congressman," Warfield said. "You can bet that I will use every resource available to me to represent Granite City in the state legislature and the Congress of the United States enjoy a healthy working relationship with the mayor's office if I am fortunate enough to occupy it."

Price, a congressman for 21 terms, has never endorsed candidates in non-partisan elections or contested Democratic primaries during his 42 years in Congress.

"Mac Warfield has impressed him (Price) with the job he has done as mayor and his personal character," said Mike Mansfield, aide to Price. "After 40 years on Capitol Hill, Congressman Price knows the value of using political clout to help get things done for the folks back home. Mac is the kind of leader who knows how to use his political influence to help the people he serves."

Schuler seemed unimpressed with Price's action, and indicated it would not make much difference in the April 2 election.

"That's the way it goes," the mayor said.

Von Dee Cruse, another mayoral candidate, could not be reached for comment before press time.

Hotline set up to aid farmers

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Greenwood City) has announced that a "Rural Route Hotline" has been established to assist and counsel Illinois farmers.

"Thanks to an $87,500 federal grant, officials at the University of Illinois are providing a toll-free hotline to quickly and often advise to farmers," Wolf said.

Wolf said farmers can reach the hotline by dialing the toll-free number: 1-800-847-6683. Calls will be taken between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Telephones and answering machines will record calls during off hours.

Hotline assistance will be provided by agricultural experts, including an attorney, financial counselor, extension office personnel and home economics advisors.

"The hotline, which went into effect on March 1, fielded over 90 calls its first day in operation," Wolf said, "and that was with minimal media exposure."

Mac Warfield has impressed him (Price) with the job he has done as mayor and his personal character," said Mike Mansfield, aide to Price. "After 40 years on Capitol Hill, Congressman Price knows the value of using political clout to help get things done for the folks back home. Mac is the kind of leader who knows how to use his political influence to help the people he serves."

Schuler seemed unimpressed with Price's action, and indicated it would not make much difference in the April 2 election.

"That's the way it goes," the mayor said.

Von Dee Cruse, another mayoral candidate, could not be reached for comment before press time.

East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer will present the principal address at a "Prayer Breakfast" at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, March 28, at the Venice Senior Center, 100 Community Center, Klein and Brown streets, Venice.

Sponsored by the Committee to Re-Elect Mayor Echols, the event is being arranged by supporters of incumbent Mayor Tyrone Echols.

Donations being invited to attend and donations, costing $2.50 per person, will be accepted at the door, the organizers said.

The Rev. Seamus Boyce will offer the devotions.

County Briefs

THE SPECIAL sewer committee of the Madison County Board was to have met last week night, but no actions could be taken due to lack of a quorum. General sewer superintendent, told the Press-Record that two board members had conflicts in their schedules and one member had to work. Morris Miles, chairman of the committee, and Futch met briefly and said they intend to reschedule the meeting.

STATE SEN. Sam Valadabene (D-Edwardsville) has been reappointed to the Legislative Audit Commission for a two-year term. Valadabene was a member of the commission in 1983 and 1984 when the LAC took action on more than 140 audits, including public hearings on 74 compliance and performance audits. The LAC is responsible for the oversight of the state audit program, review of audit reports, coordinate audits and monitoring action to correct weaknesses disclosed in audits of state agencies. He will serve as the LAC's secretary.

INTERSTATE 255 construction will continue as Congress has released nearly $250 million for highway and transit improvements in Illinois. The money will allow the I-255 project to proceed in an expeditious manner and insures funding for transit and highway infrastructure transfer projects in the Chicago area," commented Governor James R. Thompson.

clothing from her home. She told police the incident must have occurred between noon and 5 p.m. Friday.

JUDGE RAISES BOND ON APPEARANCE WARRANT

Michael A. Brown, 22, of 2628 E. 28th St., arrested on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of deceptive practice at 4:35 p.m. Friday in the 2600 block of Alton, was released before Associate Justice John T. Homa a short time later.

Brown pleaded innocent and the bond was raised to $250, which he posted and was released.

JUDGE RAISES BOND ON APPEARANCE WARRANT

In a burglary at the home of Annette Simpkins, 3017 Wayne Ave., reported at 3 p.m. Friday, the intruders forced the door and stole a 25-inch color television valued at $1,200, two electric coffee makers, a watch with $50, assorted jewelry, a suede jacket and a down-filled winter jacket.

CHARGE MAN SLUMPED OVER WHEEL WITH DUST

Advised that a man was slumped over the wheel of his car at 4:30 a.m. today, officers reported finding Gary C. Goleman, 38, of Edwardsville in an auto in the eastbound lanes of the 1400 block of West Pontoon Road, near the railroad tracks.

When he could not immediately be aroused, Goleman was removed from the vehicle, but then revived and allegedly got back into the car. He was taken to police headquarters, where he was given a breath test and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

The vehicle was towed from the scene and Goleman was released at 4:20 a.m. today after posting a $102 cash bond.

CAR MISSING IN STATION BURGLARY

A police sergeant noticed a metal panel pushed in on a garage door at the Amoco Service Station, 2204 Madison Ave., at 5:05 a.m. today and noted officials were in the opening to check the building.

A cabinet inside had been forced and $100 cash was gone, the owner reported. An inventory was being taken to determine what other items were missing.

APPEARANCE WARRANT

Morris M. Kohn, 25, of 2127 Grand Ave., was arrested in the 2200 block of Amos Avenue at 6:15 p.m. Friday on an active warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol. He was released after posting $502 bail.

CHARGED EARLY TODAY

Darwin J. Dill, 21, of 41st Division St., Potters Beach, was charged with criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct when arrested today outside a residence in the 2400 block of Edwards Street, where he allegedly was yelling and cursing his estranged wife and reportedly broke a window when refused entry to the dwelling.

BOOK A WYOMING MAN ON WEAPONS CHARGE

Oscar Allen Collins, 19, of Rock Springs, Wyo., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon after his truck was stopped by police at National Road and Clark Avenue at 9:30 p.m. Friday. He was released a short time later after posting a $102 cash bond.

Officers halted the vehicle after receiving a call from a motorist who reported seeing a man driving the 1500 block of Clark Avenue and saw a truck parked in the middle of the street with the driver talking to several girls.

After flashing his car lights trying to get the truck to move, the motorist said he got out of his auto and exchanged words with the truck driver, who allegedly reported having a weapon in the vehicle.

REMOVE VAN WHEELS

A burglar forced open the door at the apartment of Joyce Derner, 2612 rear Madison Ave., and stole a quantity of jewelry, including an engagement ring with a 3-carat diamond setting valued at $1,700, it was reported last week.

Cabin has been sitting there for three months now."

Petish said he didn't learn much from the forums.

"Now I think new came out of it," he said. "People who go to council meetings regularly didn't learn too much."

The absence of Warfield didn't hurt him too much, according to Petish. "His appearance wouldn't have made much of a difference," he said.

Alex Toth also felt Cruse came out on top.

"After 12 years, it's time for a change," he said. "Von Doe can get things moving here again."

"But I don't think too much new came out of either one of the forums. If you go to the council meetings much, you didn't learn too much."

But I do think the forums are useful. They bring out attendance, and people with more interest can learn something," Petish said.

People can probably learn more here because they can't control things at the council meetings. They shut off the microphones there. The school board at least allows some time for each comment at the beginning of their meetings. The council should do that."

Tot said Schuler's comments about revitalized business in the city didn't mean a great deal, said anybody could make credit for that.

"I don't think a public official can take credit for A.O. Smith coming back or for National Foods opening up," he said. "Those were decisions that those businesses made themselves. It wouldn't have mattered who was mayor at the time."

Both also felt Warfield's absence didn't help him either.

Jeanette Crawley, of 2141 Monroe St., who attended nearly every meeting of the city council, said she did not think there was a definite winner in the debate. "In my opinion, they are going to split the vote," she said. "But you have to look beyond that and see what's in a person's heart, before you can decide who you are going to support."

If a person is not used to speaking, of course, they are not going to come off as well as somebody who is used to speaking. I know when I have to speak in front of a large crowd, my throat gets dry and I get nervous—but people have to realize that being a good public speaker is not the most important factor as to whether a person will be a good mayor," she said.

Schuler has been mayor for 12 years and he has a lot of experience in public speaking from going to the council meetings. But I come to a lot of council meetings and I've seen what goes on. I say, let's give someone else a chance."

"I think Von Doe (Cruse) is sincere in his ideas for Granite City and he has my support," she said.

Crawley said she thinks the fact that Mac Warfield did not appear at the forum hurt his chances in the election.

"I think even if he had a campaign commitment, he should have made arrangements to come," Crawley said. "Commitments can be broken."

registered voter for 17 years and has never been questioned about his eligibility to vote until he received the summons signed by Biegel.

Joe Koenig, 61, of 2628 E. 28th St., received a Christmas card from the Gordon family and the next communication he got was the summons. His sister, Deborah Foresen, also received the document to appear in Edwardsville.

Mrs. Alberta Taylor, 1422 Sixth St., said, "I am 60 years old and have been voting from this address for eight years. I also live next door to Paul Bargiel at one time and he knows I have the right to vote and he has voted for me."

Two other women, Kim O'Brenski, 2050 Grand Ave., and Mary Ann Hopkins, 205a Madison Ave., said they have voted for years and have never been challenged until this month.

In an effort to help the select group of voters who were forced to answer the question of whether they lost their right to vote, John Bellomy, a lawyer, information to all explaining the procedure they should follow and what proof of residence would be acceptable to the hearing clerk.

William Weidner, a candidate for city clerk, Madison, recommended calling the hearing clerk, saying that political group would really go this far to force people to prove their right to vote. These people are really being inconvenienced."

About 2:30 Friday afternoon many of the people returned to Madison and those who appeared before the hearing were reinstated as registered voters since the evidence was admitted to hearay, several people said.

There were 29 people who appeared before the hearing clerk Friday and of that number 28 were granted the right to vote and one person is to make an appeal to the circuit court Monday.

Since then, Friday, Monday, a total of 61 people were told to report back Saturday to continue the investigative sessions.

Dream Factory

children are happy, Söllberger adds.

Don Morrison, vice president of Ozark Airlines and Bishop O'Donnell of St. Louis, have joined the corporate board of directors of the Metro-East Chapter. Other board members include Louis Susman, Jack Buck, Irvin Susman, the late Chuck Carney and many other businessmen who find time to make this endeavor a successful one for young people.

There are many other groups of people who aid in various jobs connected with fund-raising projects, making telephone calls to set up a trip or gift, or meet with civic and community chapters and explain the Dream Factory.

There was an article about the Dream Factory in the February issue of McCall's magazine.

YOU CAN BE "SURE" WITH SCHULER

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL CITIZENS OF GRANITE CITY!

Four years ago, we, the EMT's and Paramedics of the Granite City Ambulance Service, came to the citizens of Granite City with an open letter. We feel we must do this again.

In the past four years, the quality of Emergency Medical Care has been improved to you under the Schuler administration.

1. Purchase of two new vehicles — one purchased by the EMT's and Paramedics and donated to the city, the other purchased by funds available through the efforts of the Mayor and Council.
2. Six EMT's are involved in the extensive Paramedic Training Program.
3. We were the "First" Municipally Operated Life Support Unit in Southern Illinois.
4. We have the most full time Paramedic staff in Madison County.
5. We have the most qualified and equipped Advanced Life Support Vehicles in Madison County.
6. Besides the EMT's and Paramedic staff several of these men are also State Certified Emergency Rescue Technicians and CPR Instructors.
7. Combined we amass over 82 years of qualified experience to serve you better.
8. In the event an emergency should arise you can rest assured no matter what time of day or night you will receive the proper emergency care in no more than 4-5 minutes.
9. Though efforts have been made to eliminate this qualified service rendered to you, the Citizens of Granite City, Mayor Schuler has fought this with only your welfare in mind.
10. We have the ability to transport the Emergency Room care to you in the field.

ALL THESE POINTS HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED UNDER THE SCHULER ADMINISTRATION

Because this service has been kept alive during the Schuler administration the EMT's and Paramedics have been able to provide several Community Services, such as the . . .

1. Senior Citizens Annual Christmas Dance
2. Christmas Party at SEMC and donations of Lifeline Units to be used in the Community.
3. Annual Christmas Basket Drive, now serving more than 100 needy families.
4. Several smaller donations to indigent and emergency cases as they arise.

Therefore, we the undersigned unanimously endorse, and ask you to join us on April 2, 1985, and VOTE TO RE-ELECT MAYOR PAUL SCHULER.

To Whom It May Concern:

My wife and I would like to express a word of appreciation regarding the most excellent service we received from our local Paramedics.

March 21, just passed, a little before seven in the morning, my wife was stricken with an angina attack. The first thing we had to do was to get her home with the Paramedics arrived in under three minutes. Their efficiency and manner were such as to give us reassurance and confidence in their services.

In June of last year, I was a patient who needed their services, and received the very same quality of service as now. I neglected to express our appreciation at that time so would like to do so, even though it is now.

We feel that we here in Granite City are very fortunate indeed to have such especially fine Paramedics services.

Our sincere thanks.

Kites

Adventure afternoon
at Parkview Elementary

Spring, long awaited, finally arrived Wednesday. "Dreams of distant shores" were put aside as spring-like weather made its way into the Granite City area, and the first day of spring was a day for students at Parkview Elementary School in Granite City to renew one of the oldest warm weather pastimes, flying a kite.

Jo Ella Harris, a substitute physical education teacher at Parkview, had close to 250 students from the first, third, fifth and sixth grades out enjoying the 70-degree weather and doing their Ben Franklin impersonations.

The smiling faces, gentle breezes and easy laughter provided the perfect atmosphere for a carefree day in the park for the children to do just what they wanted on a perfect afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Drummond

Drummond-Welty

The wedding of Miss Linda Marie Welty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave., and Julian Nigel Maxwell Drummond of Granite City, N.C., was solemnized at the First Baptist Church in Mascoutah, Ill.

The Rev. Richard Harmon performed the noon ceremony with Martha Cornett presiding at the organ. She accompanied Ron and Vickie on the violins.

Parents of the groom, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Drummond, reside in Chillicothe, England.

Miss Susan Welty, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Luis Arias attended the groom as best man.

Seating the guests were Janis Burkhardt and Misty Timko. Dottie Williams presided over the guest book at reception hosted in the church hall immediately following the service.

After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the newlywed couple is now residing in Greensboro.

A graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride was a student at Illinois University at Edwardsville and has now transferred to the University of North Carolina. She is majoring in social work and is a member of the Baptist Student Union and Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

The groom graduated from Ealing Technical College where he majored in French cuisine and is employed as executive sous chef for Sheraton in Greensboro, N.C.

Lesche Club donates to fund

Members of Lesche Literary Club agreed to send a $20 contribution to the Statue of Liberty renovation fund at their monthly meeting.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Genevieve Miller who served a dessert course prior to the business segment. Mrs. Catherine Schnipper, president, presided and announced Mrs. Peggy Stevens submitted a slate of officers for 1985-86 and noted the election will be held at the April meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Bartels led the Pledge of Allegiance and Club Collect.

Mrs. Connie Strotheide, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Virginia John who presented a program on contemporary art. She also gave an account of the various types of that style of art works as well as some slides. Following the program she showed slides with facts about the artist and explained the type of art the slide represented and how the artist accomplished the finished product.

Mrs. Strotheide gave a brief history of French art and showed slides explaining the meaning and location of each slide.

In recognition of birthdays, Mrs. Marian Skinner pinned corsages on Mesdames Schnipper, Bartels, Mary Ann Cochran, Jerry Jackson and John.

The president announced Mrs. Verna Stuard and Mrs. Muriel Veith were ill and noted the April meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Bartels.

Mr., Mrs. David Nolan parents

Mr. and Mrs. David (Janet) Nolan of Granite City, are announcing the birth of their second child, a girl, March 18, at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The father is director of Parks and Recreation for the Granite City Park District.

The new arrival weighed 8 pounds, 5½ ounces, and has been named Erin Rebecca. She has a 4-year-old brother, Jonathan.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Edward and Mrs. Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. William McGarahan of Venice. He is the Venice Township clerk.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Nolan of Brentwood, and Mrs. Rose Ponce, Venice and Mrs. Helen McCarran, Granite City.

Phyllis Diller makes mousse

In honor of the first anniversary of Chocolatier, the only magazine for gourmet chocolate lovers, the publication asked several celebrities including Morgan Fairchild, Sheena Easton, Bernie Kopell, Phyllis Diller and Dudley Moore, all confirmed chocophiles, to reveal their chocolate secrets and recipes to the Chocolatier audience.

The recipes ranged from the very simple (Morgan Fairchild's "slice of rich chocolate cake topped with the purest vanilla ice cream") to Phyllis Diller's Magic Mousse. In all, these celebs reflect most Americans' ongoing love affair with chocolate, the favorite food of the nation. Last year alone, Americans spent more than $10 billion on chocolate, and many spent $36 per pound on this delectable substance to satisfy their longing for the very best, most delicious chocolate they could buy.

To satisfy your sweet tooth, try Phyllis Diller's Magic Mousse from a recent issue of Chocolatier Magazine.

Phyllis Diller's Magic Mousse

(Yield: 10 to 12 servings. Preparation time: 1 hour, 45 minutes plus baking and cooling times.)

2 cups unsweetened cocoa powder,

How to prepare lobster to cool

1. Lay the crustacean flat on a rectangular board or the rack of a fish poacher (poissonniere). Tie string around the lobster to prevent the tail from curling up while cooking. Secure the antennae.

2. Boil in bouillon, timing it 10 minutes per pound. (Lobster exceeding 8 to 10 pounds should simmer for the same amount of time).

3. When cooked, remove from bouillon and cool at room temperature, then refrigerate.

8 tablespoons; (1 stick) unsalted butter, melted
 ½ cup brewed strong coffee
 5 eggs, separated
 ½ cup light cream
 ¼ cup sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract or 2 tablespoons dark rum, brandy or Kirsch
 Whipped cream, sweetened to taste, as garnish (optional)

1. In the top of a double boiler, over hot, not simmering, water, blend together the cocoa with the butter, coffee, egg yolks and light cream. Stir constantly until thick. Cool.

2. In a bowl, beat the egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat in the sugar until stiff glossy peaks form. Fold in the chocolate mixture and vanilla or liquor.

3. Spoon into individual glass dishes or pots de creme and chill for at least 8 hours. To serve, garnish with sweetened whipped cream, if desired.

Broccoli

Main dish produced from broccoli

Broccoli is a seasonal, low-calorie vegetable that can be used as a main dish when baked in a loaf. The loaf uses a custard base with seasonings and cheese. Its fresh, green color is complemented by a crust of golden-brown croutons and circles of hard-cooked egg.

Broccoli Loaf Supreme brings a bonus in good nutrition. Broccoli, milk and cheese are all good sources of dietary calcium, a mineral often lacking in adult diets. Broccoli is an excellent source of vitamins A and C, and a good source of iron, phosphorus and some of the B vitamins.

Plum Cobbler is a good dessert to serve with this entrée because of its contrast in color, flavor and texture. Its biscuit topping provides the grain component for this well-balanced meal.

Bake the cobbler first then lower the oven temperature for the loaf. At serving time, top the warm cobbler with vanilla ice cream.

Broccoli Loaf Supreme

Loaf

- 3 tbsp. butter
- 3/4 cup chopped onion
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tsp. dried mustard
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 2 pkgs. (10 oz.) each frozen broccoli, thawed and well drained
- 1/2 cup dried seasoned bread crumbs
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced
- Sauce
- 2 tbsp. butter
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese

For loaf, sauté onion in butter until tender, about 3 minutes; set aside. Combine broccoli, eggs, milk, mustard, garlic powder and pepper in large bowl. Stir in broccoli, bread crumbs, cheese and onion. Pour into well-buttered six-inch loaf pan. Place loaf pan in shallow baking pan on oven rack; pour 2 inches hot water into the larger pan.

Cover with foil. Insert knife inserted near center comes out clean, about 1 hour at 350°.

Remove loaf pan from hot water; let stand 10 minutes. Unmold onto serving platter.

Meanwhile, prepare sauce by melting butter in small saucepan. In another small saucepan, heat and stir until smooth. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk and Worcestershire sauce. Bring to boil stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add cheese; stir until melted.

To serve, garnish top of loaf with sliced egg. Spoon sauce over loaf. Makes 8 servings.

Plum Cobbler

- 1 can (1 lb., 14 oz.) plums
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tbsp. quick tapioca
- 1 tbsp. butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Vanilla ice cream, if desired

For fruit sauce, drain plums reserving syrup. Remove pits from plums and cut plums into quarters.

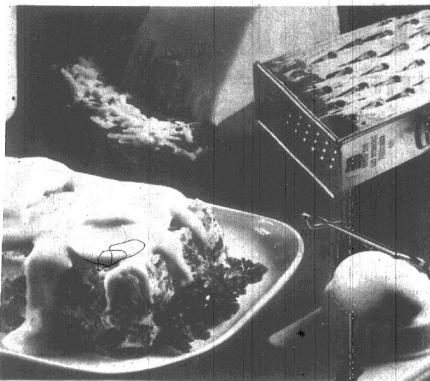

Combine fruit, syrup, sugar and tapioca in medium saucepan. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 5 minutes. Stir in 1 tablespoon butter; set aside.

For biscuit topping, combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and cinnamon in mixing bowl.

Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in milk and vanilla. Mix until all ingredients are combined.

Place fruit sauce in bottom of an 8-inch square baking dish. Drop biscuits by tablespoonsfuls over fruit. Bake at 425° for 25 minutes or until biscuits are done.

Serve warm with vanilla ice cream. Makes 9 servings.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 2ND WARD CITY OF MADISON

Listed below are the 6 MOST IMPORTANT QUESTIONS of this election. I ask them in the hope that my opponent will come clean and answer them for the people of our ward.

- 1) Mr. Costoff, you state that you are opposed to the present city administration. Why then do you always vote YES on their proposals?
- 2) Mr. Costoff, why did you vote AGAINST the resignation of former mayor Mike Sasyk?
- 3) Mr. Costoff, why do you miss so many City Council meetings?
- 4) Mr. Costoff, what ideas do you have about bringing revenue into the city? Where is your plan for making Madison a better place to live?
- 5) Mr. Costoff, why do you back candidate for Mayor who wants to take Madison backwards, to what he calls the "GOOD OLD DAYS"?
- 6) Mr. Costoff, what major accomplishments have YOU been directly responsible for to the betterment of Ward 2 voters?

JUST DESSERTS

Unusual exotic desserts perfect for Easter holiday season

Easter is a joyous holiday, a time of renewal and rebirth, celebrating Christ's resurrection. At the same time, the beauties of spring are coming to life on an earth laid bare by winter's cold.

For centuries, mankind has drawn comfort and sustenance from the annual harvest of vegetables back the spring, and has celebrated this through feasting on foods which, themselves, are metaphors for rebirth and harbingers of this yearly re-nascence.

EASTER BABA (Babka Wiekanowa)

1 cup milk
3½ cups all-purpose flour
2 packages active dry yeast
½ cup lukewarm water
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
15 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup melted butter
¾ cup mixed chopped candied citron and orange and lemon
½ cup chopped almonds
½ cup raisins
Blanched almond halves
Finely dry bread crumbs

1. Scald milk; pour into a large bowl. Slowly add ¾ cup flour to hot milk and beat thoroughly. Cool.

2. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water 5 minutes; add 1 tablespoon of the sugar. Let stand 5 minutes. Add to cooled milk mixture; beat well.

3. Cover; let rise until doubled in bulk.

4. Add salt to egg yolks. Beat until thick and lemon-colored, about 5 minutes. Add remaining sugar and extracts; continue beating. Continue egg yolks until milk mixture, beating thoroughly. Add remaining flour; mix well.

5. Knead 10 minutes in bowl. Add butter, citron, and orange and lemon. Let rise 1 hour. Turn out onto a floured surface; add until dough leaves the flours. Add candied peel, almonds, and raisins; knead to mix well.

6. Turn out onto a floured surface; add until dough is smooth. Punch down and let rise again.

7. Generously grease a 12-inch fluted tube pan or turban mold. Press almond halves around sides and bottom of pan. Cover with plastic wrap.

8. Punch down dough and put into prepared pan. Dough should fill a third of pan. Let rise 1 hour, or until dough fills pan.

9. Bake at 350°F about 50 minutes, or until hollow sounding when tapped on top. Large loaf.

CHEESE PASCHA FROM LWOW (Paszka ze Lwowa)

1 whole egg
2 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup white currants
2 pounds white farmer cheese
1 cup unsalted sweet butter
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
1 cup chopped blanched almonds
1 tablespoon grated orange peel

1. Beat whole egg and egg yolks with cream until thick and creamy. Add sugar. Turn into a saucepan. Heat almost to the boiling point, stirring constantly; do not boil. Remove from heat. Add raisins; cover.

2. Combine the rest of the cream, the cheese, butter, and vanilla extract in a large electric blender. Blend until smooth.

3. Turn cheese mixture into a bowl. Fold in the egg mixture. Add almonds and orange peel.

4. Refrigerate 4 hours. Place in a double thickness of cheesecloth. Hang over a bowl in a cold place; let drain 24 hours. Cut. Garnish with nuts and candied fruits as desired. Serve cold. Cut small slices. 16 to 20 servings.

Italian Easter dessert

Italy, too, spreads a veritable banquet to celebrate Easter. Among its Easter specialties is an Easter cake, or crema cibata as it is in a recipe reproduced from Seasons & Celebrations (Pelican Publishing Company) by Rosalie Fuscaldo Gazzano.

PAID FOR BY CITIZENS TO ELECT CRUSE,
MARK GOLDENBERG, TREASURER

Cassata
1½ cup sugar
1 cup butter
6 egg yolks
2 cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
6 egg whites
¾ cup sugar

Cream butter and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy, about 7 minutes. Add egg yolks one at a time and beat well after each addition, about 5 minutes. Add flour alternately with ½ cup milk, beating well after each addition. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Fold into batter. Pour into 10" tube pan and bake at 350° for 50 to 55 minutes. Invert on bottle and cool. Cut cake in three layers.

Cassata Filling
¾ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ cup milk
1½ cups ricotta cheese

¼ cup finely chopped candied citron

Combine ¾ cup sugar, butter and cornstarch in a saucepan. Stir in ¾ cup milk and cook stirring constantly until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat and cover with wax paper and cool. In electric mixer, beat ricotta cheese until creamy. Blend into cooked cornstarch mixture. Add orange liqueur and vanilla. Stir in chopped chocolate and citron. Spread between layers of cake.

Chocolate Frosting for Cassata
Melt 2-3 ounces unsweetened chocolate and 2-3 tablespoons butter. Add ½ cup hot coffee, ¼ teaspoon salt. Add about 2 cups confectioners sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat until smooth. Frost top and sides of Cassata. Sprinkle nuts around sides of cake. Chill. Makes 16 servings.

City Temple honors its Royal Rangers and Missionettes

City Temple Assembly of God Church recently held a special Sunday morning service to honor its Royal Rangers and Missionettes. Royal Rangers is a worldwide program to teach, train, and keep boys for Jesus Christ. It is similar to the Boy Scouts in its outdoor theme and advancements.

Missionettes is an auxiliary of the Women's Ministries. The program was founded to create activities for the girls that provide both fun and achievement; to encourage the girls to attain the Missionette ideals through activities, study, ideals and music; to acquaint the girls with the various ministries of the Assemblies of God; to motivate the girls to complete their achievement program, and to train the girls by practice in Christian leadership.

The service started with a flag and candle entrance. The United States and Christian flags were carried in by Rangers Jerry Weaver and Mike Held Jr. Lighted candles were carried by Missionettes Michelle Pryor, Jim Morris, and Linda Morris.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Scott Mahoney, Christie Rice led the pledge to the Christian flag and Rob Pacheco led the pledge to the Bible. The Missionette pledge was led by Dawn Benson, and the entire Buckaroos group came forward to recite the Royal Ranger pledge. Pastor James Burnette opened the program.

Royal Ranger Senior Commander Les Wiles explained the purposes of the Ranger program and introduced the guest staff members present including Dale Davis, Metro-South Sectional Commander; Rodger Bradford, South Sectional Captain; Clarence Howard, Southern Illinois Divisional Commander; and Outpost 94 Councilmen Rich Bywater, Ken Coleman, Dan Kosciuk, Mike Held Sr., and Sherry Wall Sr.

Missionette Coordinator Sherie Moutria explained the purposes of the Missionette program. She introduced the new group called "Y's" for girls in the ninth through 12th grade. Carol Nelson, President of Y's; and officers President Chris Wiles, secretary Sherry Benson, and Treasurer Missy Singer. Belinda Abernathy, City Temple's first Star Missionette, was called upon to explain the steps in the advancement program of the organization.

Commander Dan Holmes presented the awards to the Straight Arrows, boys five to six years old. Dave Benson received his warrior pin and first year service star, Michael Pryor Jr. was honored for being the Straight Arrow of the month for October, November and December. Jason Held was honored for his second class rating and was the Pioneer of the month for December. Jeff Held has the honor for October and Wayne Burnette for November. Danny Holmes won in January and also passed his advancement master rating. Earning service stars were Wayne and Eric Burnette two years, Derek Wolfe and Jason Stickles four years, Jeff Held five years, and William Kotencki six years. Two of the honorees came forward and explained the meaning of the Royal Ranger emblem.

Buckaroo Lt. Commander Randy Poyer passed out the awards to the seven to eight year old boys. Scotty Douglas was presented with the greenhorn pin and Buckaroo of the month for December. Jason Held was honored for October and Kris Coleman won the honor for October and Paul Pulaski for December. Shannon Wolfe received a 3-year service star. The entire Buckaroo group gave the Royal Ranger motto.

The Daisy Awards were given by Sponsor Marcie Moutria. Melissa Morris earned the giving badge. Daisies are Missionette girls in Kindergarten and first grade.

Don Kurtz, commander for the nine to eleven year old Pioneers, gave awards to Derek Wolfe who earned a recruit rating, Jason Held a second class and second class rating and was the Pioneer of the month for December. Jeff Held has the honor for October and Wayne Burnette for November. Danny Holmes won in January and also passed his advancement master rating. Earning service stars were Wayne and Eric Burnette two years, Derek Wolfe and Jason Stickles four years, Jeff Held five years, and William Kotencki six years. Two of the honorees came forward and explained the meaning of the Royal Ranger emblem.

Theresa Layer and Linda Hendrix gave the awards to the Prime girls in second and third grade. Jill Moutria received the "my class is the best" award. The music award was also given to Becky Bradford, Mandy Bloodworth, Elizabeth Gross, Christina Rice, and Gina Galati who was also promoted to the Junior Missionettes. The entire Buckaroo group sang a song entitled "I Am A Promise."

Commanders Keith Moutria and Jeff Bergbrader presented the awards to the Trailblazers, boys 12 to 14. Dawn Allison earned the fishing award and second class rating. Bobby Bradford received the rating. Bobby Bradford received the fishing and first aid award and six year service star. Paul Hogan was the Trailblazer of the month for November. John Renner earned that honor for October and December. In addition to the skiing, pathfinder, first aid award, and Trail Ranger Campmaster, Steve Perigo was the Trailblazer of the month for January and earned the fishing and skiing award and six year service star.

Sponsor Nancy Brown gave the awards to the Junior Missionettes, girls in the fourth through sixth grade. Dawn Benson passed the Susanna step and earned the loyalty badge. Linda Lisiwicz received the babysitting, personal development, and cooking badges. June Jones got the personal development badge. Linda Mahoney earned the babysitting, personal development, and cooking badge. Linda Pacheco received the babysitting, personal development, and cooking badges. Michelle Pryor passed the Susanna step and earned the loyalty, hiking, pet care, horsemanship, personal development, and cooking badges.

The Trail Ranger awards were presented by Keith Moutria and Jeff Bergbrader. David Bassett earned the fishing award, second class rating, and two year service star. Rob Pacheco was the Trail Ranger of the month for October and November. Jerry Weaver and Randy Wolfe won the honors for December and January. Others receiving service stars were Scott Mahoney, ten years old, Jeff Held Jr. five years, Steve Moutria five years, and John Renner eight years.

Royal Ranger Leader's service stars were presented to Jeff Bergbrader one year, Mike Held five years, Ken Kotencki five years, Rick Lee five years, Don Kurtz, 10 years, William Kotencki six years, Randy Pryor 10 years, and Don Kurtz 13 years. Promoted to Lieutenant Commander were Blake Bywater and Billy Pacheco.

Don Kurtz gave a talk on the Fanners Camping Fraternity. It is an extension of the Royal Ranger program for men and older boys who excel in advancements and camping skills. They recreate the authentic-ty of the 1900's complete with black powder shooting and wearing buckskin or Indian outfits. Don also gave a report on the recent winter camp. The Rangers attended Wisconsin where they enjoyed cross country skiing, tobogganing, ice hockey, snowmobile riding, and much more.

Finally, the Royal Rangers and Missionettes of the year for 1984 were presented. All ears were honored, the parents and the leaders came to the platform to help present them. The deacons of the church and outpost council also assisted. Straight Arrow of the year was Michael Pryor, and the Junior Missionettes of the year was Jill Moutria. The Trail Ranger of the year was Linda Hendrix.

Anyone interested in learning more about Royal Rangers or Missionettes, contact a local Assembly of God church or call 452-0227.

They may also call Les Wiles at 876-1112 for Royal Rangers.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Attorney At Law

There are two questions which are frequently asked by people who cannot pay their bills. Many inquire as to whether or not a creditor must accept an offer to pay a certain sum per month. Others are concerned about the possibility of having a garnishment against their wages. These are the two major problems which a creditor faces when attempting to collect on a debt.

Let's assume that an individual finds himself $15,000 in debt at some point in his life. His bills consist of three substantial balances on charge cards, outstanding hospital bills, and overdues loans with finance companies. Let us further assume that the major problem is with one financing company which is calling him at home and at his place of employment. He offers to pay them $50 per month to encourage them to leave him alone. However, they refuse this offer and threaten to attach his wages.

Do they have the right to do this? With regard to the first question, the creditor is not obligated to accept any offer to pay. Most promissory notes provide that if any payment is late, the entire outstanding balance is "accelerated." This means that the lender can demand the entire balance immediately. Many debtors feel that this is not fair, and that a lender should have to accept payments if the debtor makes a good faith effort to pay. The law will not require a creditor in this situation, however, to be bound by any other contract than the original note.

Regarding the debtor's wages, in most situations a lawsuit must be filed and a judgment obtained before a creditor can institute a wage garnishment. Under a garnishment, 15% of the person's wages will be withheld.

It is important to note, however, that some finance companies have the right to file a "wage attachment." This frequently provides that an immediate attachment can be placed on the person's wages if he fails behind, even without the creditor filing suit.

What can debtor do in this situation to get relief from the garnishment? The possible alternatives are to file a bankruptcy arrangement with the creditor for payments which are mutually satisfactory. The other option is to file bankruptcy and eliminate the debt entirely. People finding themselves in this situation should probably consult an attorney to determine which option is best for them given their particular circumstances.

DAV told of free hunting, fishing licenses

Robert (Bob) Koenen, commanding officer of Chapter 33, Disabled American Veterans, reminded members attending the March meeting that their free Illinois hunting and fishing license must be renewed each year. A service office is at the DAV club, 1910 W. Main Street, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. where licenses can be renewed. The service officer can also obtain free licenses for those who have never applied for a license before, provided they have a service-connected disability of 10 percent or more, he explained.

Everyone who has not already done so is urged to write their congressmen and ask them to oppose the administration's proposal to tax VA compensation benefits. Administration officials have plainly stated that they will pursue their goal with enthusiasm, they care not how unfair it is, the commander said.

The name and address of your congressman is furnished again in view of its importance to us all. Honorable Alvin Dison, 10th Dist., Monroe, Room 103, Springfield, Ill. 62701, or Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510; Honorable Paul Simon, 23rd South

PTO views film about child abuse prevention

During a recent meeting of the Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School Parent-Teachers Organization members viewed a film, "Strong Kids, Safe Kids: A Family Guide," starring Henry Winkler.

The 45-minute presentation was developed to help parents teach their children to stop sexual molestation before it starts. Since students viewed the film prior to the PTO meeting, parents were given the opportunity to discuss the film with them.

Steve Atkinson, coordinator of pupil personnel services at Granite City High School, was the guest speaker at the meeting. She spoke on the sexual abuse of children.

Mobil switching to ethanol

Representatives of the Illinois Corn Growers Association and the Illinois Corn Marketing Board (ICMB) expressed enthusiastic support for Mobil Oil Company's announcement this week that it will replace its regular leaded, regular unleaded, and super unleaded gasoline with ethanol-enriched gasoline. Mobil has more than 500 service stations throughout Illinois.

Floyd Schultz, ICGB president from Plainfield, predicted the development will help corn growers throughout Illinois and across the country. "It will increase the demand for corn, the decision by one of the largest gasoline marketers will also have a positive impact on the state's air quality."

"Mobil's decision could mean a significant increase in demand for corn." This additional demand for corn will strengthen corn prices for all farmers," according to Schultz. Furthermore, Schultz said,

"As corn growers, we firmly believe positive market development is our best long-term solution."

"Mobil is to be commended,"

Schultz continued. "This is a very positive move and the first of, we hope, many by major oil companies. We see a definite advantage to them and to us by their reducing the amount of lead and replacing it with ethanol produced from corn." Lead has been used as an octane booster; a characteristic ethanol is also used Mobil's announcement was good news to the Illinois Corn Marketing Board as well. Gerald Carney, ICMB chairman and a Macoupin County corn farmer, said they've been promoting the use of ethanol in gasoline. Mobil's decision could prove to be a turning point in the acceptance of ethanol. Farmers will undoubtedly greet Mobil's move with enthusiasm on the farm and at the state's air quality.

Hayes on WGNU show

Former KATZ Radio personality Bernie Hayes will begin a 10 A.M. to noon slot on WGNU Radio, March 25, according to an announcement made today. Hayes resigned his position at KATZ last week following several years of hosting an early morning talk show.

Hayes is developing his new show with Marketing Associates, a radio production company that creates feature programs for broadcasting.

According to Marketing Associates spokesman Terry Miller, WGNU was chosen for several reasons: among them the station's willingness to allow Hayes latitude in the type of show to do.

"The show will not differ a great deal in content from what Bernie has been doing for more than 20 years," said Miller. "Some program direction will come from the WGNU service content old-hat, but we don't think so and the listenership Hayes draws proves there is an audience for such programming."

According to Hayes, the show will have potential for syndication, but the immediate goal is to make it a success in the St. Louis metropolitan market.

SEMC proud of cost containment success

On March 1, a report issued by the Illinois Health Care Cost Containment Council (IHCCCC) to the Illinois General Assembly brought good news for health care consumers.

The report, a survey of hospital costs throughout the state of Illinois, demonstrated that efforts to slow the rapidly rising cost of hospitalization is beginning to pay off. According to the figures released in the IHCCCC report, hospital costs in Illinois increased by 5.6 percent in 1984, an improvement over the 6.8 percent increase in 1983.

Looking at the broader picture, Illinois hospitals are doing a better job of keeping hospital costs down than the rest of the nation. In 1983 and 1984, hospital costs of the national level increased 6.1 percent and 10.3 percent respectively, compared with 6.8 percent and 5.6 percent increases in Illinois.

Of the 251 hospitals surveyed by the IHCCCC, one-third of them kept their price increases below the Consumer Price Index of 4.3 percent. One of these was St. Elizabeth Medical Center, with an increase of only 4.1 percent.

"We are not looking beyond the immediate goals right now," said Hayes. "Once the program is established, we'll consider adding other segments. WGNU gives us a solid base from which to begin, with substantial signal covering the Metro areas that will have the most interest in the program."

Keeping our subjects local allows us to deal with those that are of close interest to St. Louis area residents. The message can be shorter than many, but the content is more in-depth than most and requires such an approach.

"We are not looking beyond the immediate goals right now," said Hayes. "Once the program is established, we'll consider adding other segments. WGNU gives us a solid base from which to begin, with substantial signal covering the Metro areas that will have the most interest in the program."

However, it is important to keep in mind that the total cost of hospital care is created not only by the unit price, as the IHCCCC studied, but by length of stay and frequency of use. Therefore, a better measure to determine if a hospital is efficient in this survey is to look at the average revenue per admission. Using this criteria, St. Elizabeth's reports only a 1.25 percent increase in average revenue per admission, as compared with a 3.3 percent increase on the national level.

Another recent hospital pricing survey in our metropolitan area shows that St. Elizabeth's private, semi-private and intensive care room rates are either at or below the median average for all facilities at Methodist and St. Louis hospitals with comparable facilities.

Considering the results of the IHCCCC report and other recent surveys, health care consumers in our community can feel confident that effective measures are being taken to keep hospital costs in line without sacrificing quality or sophistication in treatment," according to an SEMC spokesman.

Steptoe keeps students running on track

On And Off The Track

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff Writer

Charles Steptoe swears by the work ethic rule.

And with good reason. Hard work has translated into success for the Madison High School track coach.

Steptoe has had a successful season overseeing Trojan track. His hard work and long hours have gained statewide respect for Madison in the sport. Steptoe's numbers are ample proof that the work ethic nurtures.

Consider the following record Madison has compiled under Steptoe's tenure.

"Since 1969, Madison has 46 dual meet victories.

"Twenty-five triangular meet victories," Steptoe said. "Placed seventh in this year's event."

"Thirteen Trojan team victories in meets where five or more squads were competing."

"Forty-six overall second-place finishes (teamwise) in statewide track meets."

"Four Illinois High School Association district titles."

"Eighty-eight overall victories in 16 years."

"Madison has qualified at least one Trojan team for IHSA state meet in 16 of the last 16 years."

"The Trojans placed second overall in the Class A meet in 1978; and fourth place in state (out of 82 teams) in 1979."

But, success hasn't changed Steptoe the man, or Steptoe the coach. He still approaches each season as it is his first.

"I know a lot more about coaching now than when I first started," he said.

As a coach and guidance counselor, if Steptoe can teach his student-athletes just a little knowledge, he is satisfied.

"It gets a big kick if somebody does well, scores high on an ACT test, or gets a good grade," he said.

Steptoe is a person who must get involved with his work.

"This man puts in a lot of time," said assistant track coach Al Collins, a junior high teacher at Madison. "A lot of that goes unnoticed."

Steptoe often finds himself seen on the streets wearing a green baseball jacket and his Trojans hat, giving instructions. Then, after practice, helping pack the equipment away for another day.

"I'm not the important part of this team," Steptoe said. "The kids are. I just come out to help them be successful."

Peak conditioning is the key to good fortunes in track, a sport that requires both quickness and endurance.

"Our big forte is to get the kids in shape. To do that we run a lot of good hard competition," Steptoe said.

"You can be good and run one time," he adds. "But, you can't be continually good unless you train."

The Trojans train indoors while the weather is still cold. "We run a lot of hallways, stairways and push on a lot of walls," Steptoe said.

The end reward is a big indoor meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, which placed seventh in this year's event.

Some of the best teams in the state are represented. It's sort of the an appetizer for the outdoor season.

"That's the incentive for all the hard work," Steptoe said. "Then, we try to turn them back to Charleston later on," he added, referring to the state championships.

There is more teaching involved in Steptoe's coaching philosophy than many realize. As much as "70 percent" is teaching, he said.

The foundation of the Madison program lies in the knowledge of the coaches. Both Steptoe and Collins are former tracksters. Steptoe attended Centralia and Collins prepped a Beaumont High in St. Louis.

Coaches attend clinics to pick up new techniques. They study films and pass the data along to team members. Steptoe also puts each athlete on a specific training program designed to improve performance.

"That's the unseen part of it," he said. "We put different groups together so they can help each other."

For example, sprinters may be grouped with the long jumpers so the speedsters can help the jumpers with their starts.

Like most smaller programs, lack of numbers forces many team members to be entered in more than one event.

The method has worked because Madison had state qualifiers long before the IHSA split into its present two class format.

Steptoe takes pride in that these qualifiers not only participated but also scored (points) in state."

MADISON'S BEST. Madison High School's Charlie Steptoe sits behind his desk in his guidance counselor's office Friday night tabulating the Trojan's track statistics. For Steptoe, who's been at Madison High School 21 years, success is not measured in how many first or second place ribbons an athlete brings home, but rather in winning the game of life. For Steptoe measures success in a student's ability to grow into a mature person who can both serve himself and his community.

was John "Skywalker" Lewis, who high jumped 6 feet 6 inches in districts three years ago. Lewis bettered that jump by two inches in an all-star meet after the season.

Perhaps, Steptoe's reinforcement of the work ethic dates back to high school.

Steptoe was a fine football player for Centralia on a team that went 9-1 his senior year and were champs of the South Seven Conference.

Steptoe's reasoning behind getting the most from his athletes is that it will pay off in the future.

They say there is but one meet that you actually try to coach for, and that's the districts," Steptoe said.

"Some kids will be unhappy that they're not doing well in competition, but they only see what's happening right now. We are trying to help the kids to constantly improve."

Said Collins, "He is always thinking ahead. He's running the good competition, so that the kids will be mentally and physically ready for state."

The method has worked because Madison had state qualifiers long before the IHSA split into its present two class format.

Steptoe takes pride in that these qualifiers not only participated but also scored (points) in state."

The latest in a long line of Trojans

But track is a different story. Success is determined by the number and size going for me, but I had to work harder in track," Steptoe said. "I wasn't a superstar, I had to work a long time to earn my letter. It's different now. We had to have points. Now, we may award a letter for effort."

"I remember one year I came up short, I was so disappointed."

Steptoe uses that one small incident in helping his Trojans to work harder in track, but in life.

"Our kids have enough ability to win and to succeed. But they must be willing to work hard, sacrifice and pay the price."

The price may be sweat or patience, but Steptoe believes the end

Comanches win first round

CHAMPAIGN — Cahokia moved one step closer to its first-ever basketball state championship, pounding Ottawa 81-66 in the quarterfinals of the Class AA state tournament Friday night.

The Comanches, making their first post-season appearance in the school's 32-year history, placed their players in double figures in their rout of the Pirates.

The win assured Cahokia, winners of the Collinsville Sectional, no worse than a fourth-place finish in the state tourney.

Tim Goodwin, a 6-6 center, led Cahokia with 19 points. The Comanches also got 18 points from Matt Luster, 15 from Stan Sillas and 13 points from guard Johnell Marks.

Cahokia (28-3) was to play Chicago Mt. Carmel (26-4) in the semifinals on Saturday. The other semifinal will pit Springfield Lanphier (28-3) against Homewood (22-4).

The championship and third place games were held Saturday night.

Cahokia jumped to a 15-10 lead after the first quarter and was paced by Luster, who had 12 of his 15 points in the period.

In the third quarter, the Comanches padded their lead outscoring Ottawa 24-12.

The win assured Cahokia coach Ken McBride another day behind the bench.

McBride's future as head coach is in doubt. He was suspended by the Cahokia school board following his arrest on drunken driving and possession of marijuana charges.

However, McBride won a temporary restraining order from a St. Clair County Judge allowing him to continue to coach until March 25.

In eight years at Cahokia, McBride has compiled a 100-40 record. This season the school won its first regional and sectional championships.

Other quarterfinal action saw Springfield Lanphier upset defending champion Champaign Central (32-48). The Lions got 22 points and 20 rebounds from senior Ed Horton to advance to the next round.

Simeon, who had lost just one during the season, entered the tournament as a slight favorite to repeat.

The Wolverines were trying to bounce back after tragedy struck the team as the season started. All-American Ben Wilson was gunned down just a few blocks from the school three days before the team opened the season.

Injury 'sidelines' GCHS' Baker

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — No one can say that Granite City High School soccer coach Gene Baker doesn't take his sport seriously. Every chance Baker gets he participates, whether it be kicking a soccer ball around his yard or on an indoor carpet.

Well, it may be sometime before the Warriors' six-time state champions' coach does any "kicking around."

Last Sunday, March 17, at Soccer for Fun, the indoor facility in Pontoon Beach, Baker and some friends were playing soccer when he injured the Achilles tendon in his right ankle. The ligament tear required extensive reconstructive surgery.

Now, in a full-length cast up to his hip, Baker, who also teaches English at the high school, is expected to be housebound for at least three weeks.

Dr. Don Baker, the surgeon who performed Baker's operation at Missouri Baptist Hospital, anticipates that the Warrior coach will cer players who was injured last year in a game in Quincy. London is the chief surgeon for the St. Louis Football Cardinals.

"I've everything you've ever heard. All the horror stories are true," Baker said Friday evening of his injury. "The initial pain wasn't what I thought it would be. The sensation was like stepping in a hole. It snapped. I could move my foot up but not down," said the 41-year-old coach.

Then the Warrior coached talked about a privilege he'd rather not shared.

"I saw my x-rays. According to Bassman I had so many calcium deposits from the previous injuries that it was only a matter of time before it happened. Before it broke," Baker said.

"It was apparently ready to snap," Baker said in a self-consoling way.

"I won't be out there for a long time. At least not for anyway."

CHAMPAIGN — Just as high school basketball fans can make an impact on state tournaments each March, so can they be sure that Larry Graham will be at those state tournaments.

With two Class A state championships to his credit, one in 1977 and another in 1981, Graham is a fixture in the University of Illinois Assembly Hall every March.

And even when one of Graham's teams wasn't competing in the annual hoop extravaganza, he was there anyway, watching, taking in every piece of the action.

Well, this year Graham broadened his horizons even more, if that's possible. This year Graham, now the basketball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was with Graham's coaching a team he just an observer-spectator.

This year spectators and basketball fans got to hear what Graham sounds like during a game. This year, fans got to hear what runs through Larry Graham's mind during a game.

He was there. Graham was in the broadcast booth. He was there, courtside, doing color commentary with long-time friend Joe May of WIBV-1260 Belleville radio.

He was there during the Class A state tournament last weekend and he's there again this weekend during the Class AA (large school) games.

He was there when the Trojans lost to Christiansburg and he was there last night when Cahokia defeated Ottawa.

"I'm really enjoying this (broadcasting)," Graham said during the Class A quarterfinals. "I'm not going to say that I wouldn't like to be at a bench coaching, but this is fun too."

"It's a great experience. And, too, I don't mind watching Madison play," Graham said with just a hint of missing the Trojan program.

"I'm happy where I am — at SIU — and I know Rodney (Madison High School Coach Watson) likes things where he is. We're both where we should be."

Still the same, watching Graham during Madison's losing effort to the Christiansburg Cardinals it was obvious that he was concerned when his former team fell behind by nine points midway through the final quarter.

"They didn't do it. They just didn't do it," Graham said right after the Trojans lost their quarter-final game. "They're (Christiansburg) a very good ball team, but also I don't think Madison had a very good ball game," Graham said invoking balance and impartiality in his statement.

"I think they (the Trojans) really surprised some people getting as far as they have. It's a tribute to them and Rodney," Graham said. "I think he's a fine, fine coach."

There are people who will tell you the same thing about Graham.

One person is May. Not only is Graham one of May's best friends, but May is probably Graham's biggest supporter.

"Honored. That's how I feel about having Larry sitting right here, doing the game with me," May said in the few moments before WIBV was to begin its broadcast.

"There aren't many people have the credentials that Larry does. Not only is he one of the most knowledgeable basketball persons in the state, but he may be the only person to have been inducted into both the Indiana and Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame."

"Now there's a guy with clout," May said. "Gotta go. It's time." May said turning in his seat now facing the transmitter.

As for Graham, air time didn't nearly bother him nearly as much as watching his Trojans take to the hardwood.

Players get nervous before a broadcast performance. Others, like Graham, were always meant to be coaches. Whether they're the coach on the bench or not, they'll be the ones with the butterflies.

"What can I say?" Graham said of his obvious pre-game jitters. I'm a coach. I'm always expecting the worse."

Henson praises his skaters at Friday's hockey banquet

By JOE THOMPSON
Staff Writer

GRANITE CITY — For the Granite City High Warrior Hockey team to climb to the top often means something special, too.

Trickles of perspiration lined the face of Garry Henson, coach of the hockey team. As he looked back on the triumphant 1984-85 season, it was clear that the team had made the team Mid-States League for the Warriors, who carved out a second consecutive North Division title with a 19-3 regular season mark. They then battled through the playoffs to the Final Four for a second straight year, and finished runner-up to DesMet for the title. They finished 24-5.

The man is a master of words when it comes to inspirational beat-the-perception factor. As he speaks of the Warriors' awards ceremony banquet before parents, friends and well-wishers Friday night at the Jaycees Hall, Henson's wife, Ginny, will tell you, her husband was no George Jessel.

Parents, players, who were not the superstars of the league, Henson got the job done.

How did the Warriors accomplish all that they did? The voice was loud and clear and proud.

"In the past, we told the audience, 'a good group of young men who realized their limitations and met those limitations, who worked very hard through the season.'

"It's been a fine year. It's been a fine three years," said Henson, who with his wife, Ginny, and son, Jerry, Rodricks took over as coaches three years ago. "I don't know if I can say enough."

"We have good people," he said. "We have good, coachable kids. That means a lot. And, finally, you're trying to put together a team."

"We continue to work hard," Henson said. "We can eventually get to the point (when people say), 'Granite City.' They've got a good hockey program. They've got good people who run it."

Hockey

"Who knows," Henson said, "we might end up being the day with the biggest and best program. We're not that far away now."

The Warriors didn't do it alone. Henson pointed out, the community also helped and, ultimately, reveled in the team's achievement.

He pointed out such organizations are invaluable to the success of the program.

Rob Thomas was singled out as an "integral part of the program."

Also honored were non-players Old Timers and Ken Krznowski. Both received t-shirts.

"That's what the Jaycees believe in," said Beyer, whose organization aids the team financially.

Boyd Presley, president of the Granite City Boosters Club, saluted

the players by presenting them with T-shirts. The Boosters Club, Henson pointed out, has raised $15,000 the past two years for the high school sports program.

Rob Thomas was singled out as an "integral part of the program."

Also honored were non-players Old Timers and Ken Krznowski. Both received t-shirts.

"Of the group, Carden, Donoff, Yurkovich, Wilmouth, Young, Wade, Stegelmeier and Lakin are seniors. They were the heart of the team. But, Henson pointed out, the Warriors are capable of earning more trophies and awards next year. The formula? 'It gets down to working hard,'" he said.

"That's what the Jaycees believe in," said Beyer, whose organization aids the team financially.

Boyd Presley, president of the Granite City Boosters Club, saluted

the players by presenting them with T-shirts. The Boosters Club, Henson pointed out, has raised $15,000 the past two years for the high school sports program.

Henson pointed out such organizations are invaluable to the success of the program.

ANOTHER DIMENSION. Flanked by Joe May on the right and Ron Felling on the left, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Larry Graham has found himself performing another function at basketball games — that of broadcasting for WIBV-1260 Radio. Graham, who is a long-time friend of sportscaster May, provided color commentary for both the Class A and AA state basketball tournaments from Champaign. Graham is a two-time state champion while Felling, Lawrenceville's legendary coach, is a four-time state champion.

Davis hopeful despite loss

By GREGG OCHOA

A moral victory, if not a win on the scorecard.

That's the way head coach Jim Davis summed up the Granite City High School girls softball season opening Tuesday at Venice Park.

The Warriors have vivid memories of Civic Memorial, who no-hit Granite City in last year's regional tournament, behind them, so they're Roanita Brazier and the rest.

Now at 10, Brazier pitched all seven innings as the Eagles downed Granite City 9-0 in a non-conference game.

"We didn't score any runs but I saw a lot of very positive things out there," said Davis. "There is no question that she (Brazier) is the class of the area, but I thought our girls swung the bat well."

Stacy Granberry, who held to just two hits, a slow roller down the third base line by Keri Holtcamp and an infield hit by Karen Sykes.

But as far as Davis was concerned, it was what the Warrior batters did that impressed him.

"Last time we faced her, she had 15 strike outs, today we only struck out seven times and had some good cuts at the ball," Davis said. "She did a better job on the bat this season, I think we'll be okay."

Civic Memorial broke open four times in the third and fourth innings. The Eagles were led by Brazier who hammered a two-run home run to the fence in center field.

Actually, the way Brazier pitches, one run is most likely most of the time.

In the first, Brazier tripped past a allowing Alicia Melton in centerfield and scored on a double by Kerry McNaughan reached on Leigh Ann Fanning's throwing error.

From there, Brazier settled in, allowing Alicia Melton in centerfield and scored on a double by Kerry McNaughan reached on Leigh Ann Fanning's throwing error.

"We gave up that one early and then slipped a little," Davis said. "It's tough to come back against a team like that because you've got more time to run up to them."

The Eagles banged out 12 hits. Two were a little surprised by their hitting," Davis said. "They made good contact."

Stacy Granberry had to just three base on balls, something which Davis feels is a stepping stone to improving the program.

Petri signs three kickers

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — When Granite City Center's soccer team ended its season in December with a 3-2 loss to Lincoln Land College in the National Junior College Athletic Association playoffs, GCC Coach Larry Petri was disconsolate.

Petri, then in his second season as the Stars' coach, was hoping for a season much better than their 6-1 final record.

Petri and the Stars had hoped, at least, that they would earn a chance in the playoffs at dethroning high and mighty Lewis and Clark College of Godfrey.

When that didn't happen, a determined Petri set a goal for this spring, a recruiting goal. That goal was to have his best recruiting year thus far.

"I set a goal of signing 18 new players this year. That would make me happy, very happy, but it's kinda unrealistic. Realistically, you've got to look at the numbers, the numbers available," Petri said.

"If I can't recruit 18 this year, 12 to go with the seven I've got coming back — I'll be happy. That'll be a good recruiting effort," Petri said.

Wednesday afternoon, in three successive days, Petri signed a trio of athletes to play for the Stars again. The three all from St. Louis represent a fourth of the coach's recruiting efforts.

Petri's first recruit is Tony McFarlin, a forward, attended Hazelwood East High School last year. Sidelined in the regionals, the conspicuously confident McFarlin scored 12 goals last season. "I think I can better this team," McFarlin said. "I think I'm gonna help this team win some ball games this year."

McFarlin, who helped pace the Hazelwood East Spartans to the Suburban North Conference title, is a member of two select teams, the North County (NorCo) Select team and the Florissant United Club team.

"He's a good player," Petri said of McFarlin. "A good player in our game. He's kind of player we've been looking for. He's got good speed, superior speed and that's something that we really haven't had."

"It's quickness. That's the main reason we went after him the way we did."

Petri's second recruit is a teammate of McFarlin, Mark Babor, 18, may very well be one of the reasons McFarlin excelled.

A second-team conference pick this season, Babor got his first taste of action, 18 to date. A midfielder, Babor also managed five goals from his center halfback's position in the midfield.

"I feel like I'm a good team player," Babor said. "I assist a lot that I do. I assist a lot in the center halfback," Babor joked.

Petri may have needed a back, but according to Petri, he saw more than just another midfielder in Babor.

"He's a positional player as his statistics indicate. That's what we're looking for. Someone who will play the midfield and set up our forwards," Petri said.

Petri also signed a forward and a midfielder, somehow it only seemed sensible that Petri's third recruit be back.

Meet Tim Perano, Perano, 18, of Riverview Gardens is that back, a fullback. An honorable mention to the Suburban North Conference his junior year and a first teamer his senior year, Perano described himself as a versatile player.

"I think coach needed a fullback, and I must've fit the bill. I consider myself a good soccer player, and I certainly think that I've got what it takes to play college ball," Perano said.

When it came Petri's turn to assess Perano, the Star coach provided Perano's self assessment accuracy.

"Tim's the typical Riverview Gardens kid," Petri said. "He's got good ball skills and he has a desire to play. He's a very versatile player. He's played them all — fullback, midfield and forward. He played fullback for Riverview, so that may be where I'll play him."

McFarlin, Babor and Perano should fit in nicely with Petri's returning squad. Among the returnees are Mike Caples, Marty Rocco, Chris Schenk, Tony Valenti, Scott Pelton, Jeff Lantz and Jim Nations.

"I'd like to have as many as 25 players, more than enough to fill two squads," Petri said. "I've got a fistful, but I'm still looking for more."

For himself, but for the participants. As he begins his 17th season, Steptoe is still learning as much as he did when he started.

"It's recognized more upside than downside," Steptoe said.

In a community like Madison when basketball is king, track is sometimes overlooked.

Maybe because it's right near the end of school," the coach said.

"I guess that my only pet peeve is that we don't have any pictures of track athletes in the gym (with the other basketballs). We have had a lot of success and stand-out individuals," Steptoe said.

But Steptoe is not disappointed. You see, such a gesture would not be done if he had to stop, he said.

However, right now there is still work to do.

Standing to Petri's right is Tony McFarlin, while Tim Perano and Mark Babor each flank GCC athletic director Terry Collins. ## First Season GCHS girls remain undefeated

ST. LOUIS — The Granite City High girls soccer team still hasn't lost.

The Lady Warriors, who opened their first season of existence last Tuesday with a 2-0 victory over Patonville, posted two more triumphs Thursday and Friday.

The Warriors topped Ritenour Thursday, 5-0. They crunched McCluer by the same score Friday.

In upgrading their record to 3-0, the Lady Warriors again dominated play with a combined 45 shots Thursday and Friday.

Their fiery start has astonished even their head coach, Mike Velloff. "I'm surprised," he said. "I knew they could play well. Now they have the opportunity to show how well they can play."

Even more encouraging, Velloff said the Warriors have improved with each outing. "That's what we're looking for," he said.

Moore and York also tallied.

The Lady Warriors' jayvee team is also 3-0. They scored respective victories of 9-0 and 7-0 against Ritenour and McCluer.

The Warriors' next match is Thursday against Mohrville. The contest will be played at Mehlville beginning at 6 p.m.

Madison teams shine

HIGHLAND — Powered by their relay teams and Delaney Young, who remained unbeaten in the 800-meters, the Madison track team placed second at a quadrangular meet held Thursday.

Madison totalled 64 points. Jerseyville took team honors with 100 points. Mascoutah was third with 58 points and Highland scored 51 points.

The Trojans swept all four relay events, winning the 3200-meters in 8:53.8. Team members included Brian Brown, Steve Whitehead, Young and Stevie Ball.

The same four runners combined to win the 1600-meter relay in 3:47.1. Madison also took the 400-meter relay. Rouzell Porter, brothers Terrence Hicks and Dwayne Hicks and Robbie Banks combined for a time of 46.5.

Members of the 800-meter relay team (Porter, Brian Brown, Hicks and Hicks) won the race in 1:37.5.

In addition, Young stretched his undefeated streak in the 800-meters to four meets, posting a 2:06.2 for first place. Madison also got a first place from Porter in the shot put with a toss 42-feet, 1-inch.

Oliver Walker placed second in the 200-meters (24.88) and Banks was second in both the long jump (18-feet) and triple jump (38-feet).

Madison picked up third placed from D. Hicks (11.7 in the 100-meters); Whitehead (55.6 seconds in the 400-meters) and Walker in the 300-meter low hurdles (45.9). T. Hicks placed fourth in the 100-meters with a time of 11.8.

The Trojans also got a fifth place finish from Brown, who clocked 25.6 in the 200 meters.

At a triangular meet with O'Fallon and Cahokia, the Trojans finished third with 49 points. O'Fallon won with 93 points. Jerseyville was second place with 50 points.

"In that meet, the Trojans won the two-mile and mile relays and got individual places from Young (a first in the 800), D. Hicks and seniors from Avery Ware in the 100 (5.42); Porter in the shot put (42-feet, 9-inches) and Mike Taylor in the 300 low hurdles (45.1 seconds). Roosevelt Darde notched a third in the 100-meters and Finis Parron in the triple jump.

The Trojans were outmanned at a March 18 meet with Cahokia. The Comanches pounded Madison 94-30.

In a rare occurrence, Madison lost all four relay events. "That's very unusual," said head coach Charles Stepto.

The Trojans, however, got a first place from Young in the 800 (2:10.7) and Avery Ware in the two-mile (12:46). Second places were recorded by D. Hicks in the 100 and Dwayne Franklin in the 400-meters. Porter took seconds in the shot put and discus.

In a quad meet Tuesday which was hosted by Triad in Highland, Madison finished second overall with 70 points. Greenville won the meet with 104.5 points. Highland was third with 57 points and Triad scored 23½ points.

Madison was led by its relay teams and by first places from Porter in the shot put and Damien Young in the pole vault. "The Trojans got second place from Banks in the long jump, Ball in the 800-meters, D. Hicks in the 100 and Taylor in the pole vault.

The Trojans have three meets scheduled for the week. Monday, Madison hosts St. Paul, Lebanon and Breese Central. Dupe visits Madison for a dual meet on Wednesday, March 27. The Trojans are at Belleville Althoff on March 29.

MAC SAYS VON DEE IS RIGHT ON CITY'S FINANCIAL WOES

Mayoral Form as reported in the Press-Record/Journal, Wed., March 17, 1985.

"I sat on the board of aldermen the night we walked in and were told this city owed $500,000 and yes, Von Dee (Cruse) is right, we had to go and borrow $1.8 million to get the city out of debt."
